S2 Tech, based in Chesterfield, USA, has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Andhra Mahila Sabha Arts and Science College for Women (AMSASCW), situated on the Osmania University Campus in Hyderabad, Telangana State, India, with the postal code 500044, effective from 1st July 2024.

PURPOSE

The parties have agreed to collaborate and establish a partnership with the following objectives:

1. To promote and facilitate women entrepreneurship among AMSASCW students, with a specific focus on innovation and technology-driven ventures.
2. To provide mentoring, training, and resources to empower AMSASCW students with the skills and knowledge needed for success in entrepreneurship.
3. To explore opportunities for joint research and development projects in areas relevant to S2 Tech's expertise.

MONETARY BENEFIT FOR DEGREE STUDENTS

S2 Tech will institute a scholarship program for degree students at AMSASCW College pursuing entrepreneurship-related courses. Financial support, in the form of scholarships, will be provided by S2 Tech to eligible students.

COLLABORATIVE ACTIVITIES

1. The parties will collaborate on the development and implementation of programs, workshops, and training sessions to promote entrepreneurship, innovation, and skill development among AMSASCW students.

2. S2 Tech will offer mentorship, guidance, and networking opportunities to students interested in entrepreneurship.
3. The parties may jointly organize events, seminars, and conferences aimed at creating awareness and fostering a culture of entrepreneurship among students. In this regard, S2 Tech, Chesterfield, US, has sponsored an amount in rupees 11,97,200 for Andhra Mahila Sabha Arts and Science College for Women students to participate in the Entrepreneur and Leadership Development Program (ELDP) at IIM Lucknow, IIM Udaipur, and ICIIT Patna. A total of 200 students have enrolled under the banner of ELDP for IIM Lucknow, IIM Udaipur, and ICIIT Patna. This program will be completed under the same banner.
