A Report on Constitution Day Celebrations 2025

The Department of Political Science celebrated Constitution Day on 26th November 2025 at 11:00 a.m. in M.V. Hall. Students from various academic streams participated enthusiastically, reflecting unity and respect for the Indian Constitution.

The programme began with anchoring by Meghana, B.A (EPP) III-year student, who warmly welcomed the gathering. She invited the Chief Guest, the Principal, the Vice Principal, and the IQAC Coordinator onto the stage. The event commenced with everyone reciting the Preamble of the Indian Constitution, creating a profound sense of pride and togetherness.

The Principal, Dr. K. Karuna Devi, addressed the students and highlighted the greatness of the Constitution. She encouraged them to gain deep knowledge of constitutional values and understand their relevance in everyday life. She stated that the Constitution is not merely a historic document but a guiding light that shapes how we live together as a community and as a nation. She reaffirmed that the Constitution firmly upholds the ideals of justice, liberty, equality, and fraternity.

The Vice Principal, Dr. Y. Vasundhara, emphasized the principle of equality before the law and reminded the audience that Constitution Day prompts us to reflect on the fundamental values, rights, and responsibilities that define our nation. She quoted Dr. B. R. Ambedkar: "The Constitution is not a mere lawyer's document; it is a vehicle of life, and its spirit is always the spirit of the age," explaining its significance in contemporary society.

The IQAC Coordinator, Dr. A. Pramila, further spoke about the need to understand the four foundational pillars of the Constitution and encouraged students to continue their learning journey with dedication.

J.Indu, B.A (EPP) III-year student, introduced the Chief Guest, Mrs. Tarunum Siddhanthum, Assistant Professor at Andhra Mahila Sabha Law College for Women.

The Chief Guest delivered an insightful and informative address, covering the historical background and evolution of the Constitution. She explained that in law schools, the Constitution is regarded as a “holy book,” transcending religious boundaries. She elaborated on the various parts of the Constitution and highlighted the significant role of the Drafting Committee in shaping modern India. She also emphasized the remarkable contributions of Dr. Durgabai Deshmukh, particularly her work toward women’s rights and empowerment.

Following this, V. Hymavathi from B.A (EPP) II year spoke about the importance of the Constitution and concluded her speech with the powerful slogan: “Rajyangam unna chote prajaswamyam nilusthundhi.”

A group of B.A (EPP) II-year students—Manasa, Hymavathi, Ashritha, Akhila, and Udayasri—presented a meaningful and well-received skit. Their performance depicted how the Constitution has positively impacted the lives of women, especially in the field of education. They concluded with the inspiring slogan: “Samvidhan Hamara Adhikar Hamare – Nari Shakti, Naya Bharat.”

The Principal of the college appreciated their creativity, awareness, and enthusiastic participation.

The event concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by B. Shiva Spandana from B.A (EPP) II year. The programme ended with the National Anthem, marking a respectful and patriotic conclusion to the celebration.
